

ASBYU Presidential Candidates Cameron Seeks Voice Of Students

Kartchner To Simplify Government

Student government as it now exists requires improvement and change. The issue of the campaign is no longer change vs. no-change because the entire election thus far has indicated a mandate for a re-evaluation of our present student government system.

Changes occur on the student level not by the student body president as much as by the students themselves. Changes in the ASBYU constitution must have the backing not only of the executive council, but also must have the support of the student voters. Improvement will occur by student leaders who not only recognize the problems, but who have responsible solutions. It is my commitment to represent not only my opinions and views, but also those of the students.

Student opinion is both sought and valued in administrative decisions. Student opinion can in the future, as it has in the past, affect change at this university. By having students on such committees as the speakers committee, traffic committee, publications board, standards, alumni association, etc., several changes have occurred within the past two years. Some of these are: off and on-campus parking solutions, extended dorm and library hours, student code of conduct, courses added to the curriculum and some pass-fail courses.

The $180,000 allotted by the Board of Trustees for student activities is administered by student government for the benefit of the student body. If student government is eliminated, the $180,000 will still be budgeted for those activities, but would instead be controlled by the university administration. Without student government, students would have absolutely no voice in the control of those funds.

I solicit your vote not as an advocate of the abolishment of student government, but as an agent for responsible change.

Kim Cameron
Candidate for ASBYU President

The basic issue in this ASBYU presidential campaign is whether or not the administration will allow student representation on policy-making boards. In my opinion, it has been demonstrated time and again that they will not.

Therefore, it is our responsibility to honestly admit the bounds of our authority and to strengthen those areas over which we do have control. The social office, for example, pays its own way and moreover is an extremely active arm of significant student "government." Likewise, the academic, culture, and, in part, athletic offices all make significant contributions to the students, and I will support their actions in the coming year. There are few that would argue that the fine arts are also in need of additional support. I will, therefore, rechannel the funds over which I have direct authority into said areas and provide a frank accounting for those funds which I cannot control.

If the majority of students do not feel that student officers should receive scholarships, stipends, free tickets to activities without the accompanying wait in line, nor participate in leadership seminars and the like on student funds, they now have the opportunity to voice that opinion. The other student officers, over which the president frankly has no control, would morally have to follow suit.

In short, I suggest that student "government" be simplified by eliminating those areas which heretofore have served individual interests, thereby strengthening the above mentioned areas of legitimate student concern.

The student referendum, which has heretofore been ignored, will now be encouraged and honored.

Finally, let me dispel any doubts about my intention to occupy the office: I will not be a "lame-duck" president; I will vigorously participate in the duties of the position without requiring vast amounts of student money to do so.

Ken Kartchner
Candidate for ASBYU President

T-GROUPS

Editor:

Like Bro. Voigt (Apr. 18), I have been quite concerned about sensitivity training (or T-Groups), and its denouncement by several General Conference speakers. Numerous questions keep me from making any hasty generalizations about the subject:

1. What exactly is sensitivity training? Is it group confrontation? Is it intense criticism of the individual by the group? Is it an exercise in self-revelation? Is it a brainstorming technique for destroying moral strength? One thing is becoming clear about sensitivity training. It can be a very powerful tool for good or evil, seems to me that it is like money, it can be highly destructive to the soul—but it also has the power to do great good, and this is the important issue. Has not Satan used every righteous principle for his own ends?

2. A second question was: Was Bro. Benson making a blanket attack on every type of group confrontation that is loosely termed sensitivity training? I think that it is safe to say that many of the forces inherent in sensitivity training occur any time two or more people meet together. The Church uses group dynamics extensively to build character and bring about repentance.

I tend to feel that the principles of sensitivity training are being misused by a great number of people, thus the attack by Bro.

Benson. We can be sure of one thing, the Board of Trustees (The First Presidency and Twelve Apostles) will decide the issue for us here on the BYU campus. If all sensitivity training is bad, then the General Authorities (who are even concerned about our sunbathing on Sunday) will guide the faculty on this highly important issue. Keep Cool, Bro. Voigt!

ATTAIN PEACE

Editor:

Concerning Mr. Willardson's recent column, "R.O.T.C. vs. Campus Protest," I submit, for consideration, the following: Given that Peace is the final objective of our economic, political, social, and moral systems, I suggest we develop and support a non-military institution to attain this worthy end. The military's past and present demonstration of their inability to bring about and maintain peace warrants this change.

Sincerely,

Bruce W. Greene

LACK INTELLIGENCE

Editor:

In reading Friday's UNIVERSE, I was amused to see that Bro. Van Wagener and Bro. Harlow took Bro. Ostler seriously when he suggested land mines and chemicals to keep people off the grass. According to Thrall, Hibbard, and Coleman in "A Handbook to Literature," "The ability to recognize irony is one of the surest tests of intelligence."

Are't you revealing something, brethren? (Or a lack of it?)

Weber Stuns Cougars, Cowboys On Tap Next

By Bob Oakley
Universe Sportswriter

The Cat baseballers dropped both ends of a doubleheader to a scrappy Weber State team by scores of 4-1 and 3-2.

Wildcat pitcher Alan Birdsell in the first game limited the Cougars to only 5 hits and 1 run over the nine innings. The only run came on singles by Mike Foister, Lee Berge, and a double by Dean Thornock. Mike McKay started on the mound for the Cougars but lasted only three innings and was relieved by Rocky Brown who hurled the final five frames. Brown started shakily but held the Wildcats in check after the fourth giving up only two hits in his five innings of work.

In the sixth and seventh innings BYU had two runners on but couldn't put things together to score them.

BERGE HOT

Lee Berge went 2 for 4 as the major figure in the Cougars' stunted attack. Berge is now 9 for 17 in his last five games.

In the second game Weber pitcher Rob Lee held BYU down for six innings giving up only one run in the seventh on a single by Mary Maxwell, a walk by Tom Tikker and another run scoring single by Thornock. Lee was lifted and Don Abano gave up a fielder's choice to Fairbanks which scored the go-ahead run for the Cougars. Weber, in the bottom of the seventh faced bullpen stalwart Denney DuNann who ran into control problems, walking three and giving up a single to knot the game again. DuNann then ran the count on Hansen to 2 balls and 1 strike when he was replaced by Rich Zieninger who walked Hansen to force in the winning run.

Larry Romney has gone hitless in his last 14 chances after jumping off to a good start. Doug Howard is also 5 for 16 in the last five games at the plate. So BYU's power hitters have been slumping while Berge and Fairbanks have taken up the slack.

Coach Tuckett juggled his lineup in the first game because some of his players had late morning classes and arrived around the end of the first game.

In the second game, Larry Romney played center field for the first time this year while Fairbanks moved to right field, Romney's usual spot.

Wyoming Cowboys move into Provo on Friday for a single game at 2:30 p.m. and then a doubleheader on Saturday beginning at 1 p.m.

Shutout CSU...

Pitcher Ken Crosby Chosen BYU Athlete Of The Week

By Bob Oakley
Universe Sports Writer

Fireballing right-hander Ken Crosby has been selected as this week's Athlete of the Week after his fine showing in downing the Colorado State Rams and shutting them out for seven innings.

Ken hails from Provo and led the Provo American Legion team to the state title in 1966. He is a senior majoring in sociology with a minor in psychology.

As a sophomore Ken started ten games and completed four of them. On the season he had a record of 3 wins and 6 losses with a low 2.61 earned run average.

Last year as the Cougars were winning the WAC Championship Crosby had a record of 5 wins and 3 losses while carrying a 3.92 ERA in 14 games.

This year Ken started out slowly, starting three games but was not able to finish any of them until Saturday. Going into Saturday's game he had a record of 2 wins and 2 losses with a 5.09 ERA.

Ken took the loss against San Francisco on March 13 when the Cougars went down 5-2. Crosby bounced back and was credited with a victory as he dominated the Mesa College crew in a slim 1-0 victory.

Ken then faced USC, one of the major baseball powers in the nation, in the Riverside Tournament on April 1 and sustained the loss as the Cats went down 8-0. Crosby then came up with another win as he beat the San Diego Marines on April 7, by a 6-4 margin.

Crosby picked up his third win of the season as he handcuffed the Rams. Terry Sanford who caught the game said, "What really made him good that day was his ability to get the curve ball over and that made his fastball look 100 per cent faster." Terry said that Ken "started to tire in the fifth and sixth but after we got a 3 run lead he was fine."

Ken gave up only six hits against the Rams and picked up 12 strikeouts on the way to the shutout.

Coach Glen Tuckett was quite pleased with Ken's performance. "Ken pitched a good game—just kind that we expect of him. Ken has been a good pitcher for us for three years. He's in the groove now and will pitch against Wyoming on Saturday."

Tuckett not only had praise for Crosby's athletic achievements but also for his conduct off the diamond.

56th Invitation Meet Attracts Top Preps

An estimated 2,500 athletes will participate in the 56th annual BYU Invitation Meet on the Provo campus this week, but only a small percentage of that number will carry off the coveted medals and other hardware.

According to the meet chairman, Floyd Millet, the number of entries for this year's activities is expected to surpass any previous year. Millet said that this year's program will include golf, tennis, track and field, and precision marching.

Champions will be crowned in three major divisions: junior high school, high school and junior college. In addition, team and individual titles will be determined in golf and tennis.

Most sought-after award available, however, is the big trophy that is given the All-Around champion, the winner of two days of track and field events in which the contestants garner points on the strength of their performances.

Last year's All-Around title was won by Mike Johnson of Emory High School. Johnson, who broke the existing pole vault record in that event, was one of three all-arounders to amass more than 6,000 points.

While the vast majority of the athletes who will perform in the 56th Invitation Meet will come from the Beehive State, many of the athletes will be from out-of-state. In all, five states surrounding Utah will be represented in the spring carnival.

The first event in the three-day meet will get underway Thursday morning with junior high school tennis. The meet will reach its climax Saturday afternoon with the track and field finals in the Stadium.

By John Robinson
Associate Sports Editor

The other field events begin at 1 p.m. with the 100 yard relay. The track events will be of relays from 440 yards to distance medley (160-1320-mile) with the men of four open running - the 120 yard high hurdles, 1 yard intermediate hurdles, three mile run and the chase.

Cats, who compiled 96% in trouncing Abilene in 99% the week before in Arizona State and Utah, be in the thick of the battle of the events.

According to Coach Clarence on, New Mexico and the city of Texas at El Paso will be the stiffest over-all opposition with the other conference schools having varying in the different events.

In addition to the 440 yard relay distance medley there will be a two mile relay (4 x 880), 880 yard relay (4 x 220) and the mile relay.

The Cougars continue to improve on their performances. Against Abilene, Jim Maw and Mike Johnson were among those who particularly brought smiles to the coaches' faces.

Maw, a junior, ran a smooth race in the 440 yard intermediate hurdles and won going away in 53.6. Johnson, only a freshman, won the polevault with a lifetime beat of 15 feet 6 inches. His previous best was 14-6.

Hurdler Don French was another pleasant surprise as he recorded a time of 14.0 to finish a close second to teammate Tom Bonin in the 120 yard high hurdles.

BASEBALL (18-9) - Three games played against Colorado State University last weekend ended in a 2-1 break for BYU. The Cougars won the first game 5-2 on Friday, then split 2-5 and 6-0 in doubleheader on Saturday. Thus the BYU team is tied with Utah in Northern Division race, each with a 4-2 record. The Cats dropped two to Weber University in non conference action.

TRACK & FIELD (6-2) In an inter-sectional meet with Abilene Christian Saturday in Provo, the Cougars rolled up 96% points to 48% by ACC. All-around Jim Blaisdell set a new stadium record in the long jump with a career best of 23-11 1/2.

TENNIS (9-2) Judging from the scores, BYU's tennis team had very little trouble in picking up two more wins last Friday and Saturday. The Cougars blanked Washington, 9-0 without having to go into a third set in any of the matches. Wyoming was stopped cold, 9-0, on Saturday as the Cougars came up with their ninth straight win.

GOLF (5-1) Traveling to Hill Air Force Base for a return match with Weber State, the Cougars avenged their only loss of the season with a 20-7 win over the Wildcats. Last Friday in Provo the Cougars notched another win by beating Utah, 25-8, on a wet course at the Riverside Country Club.

years of hard work for the men's bowling team ended in victory in the mountain Bowling Conference playoffs Saturday in Union Games Center.

The team, who had won three years ago and had to considerably because of it, swept to victory over Utah and gave Coach Shaffer one of his most satisfying wins.

Cougars were behind Boise State by 191 pins going into the playoffs but quickly made it that positions were going to win.

Id. With Roy Barracough a 190 average, the Cats blew up on the Broncos and they passed them to win by 10 pins.

USC did so poorly that it was also able to sweep by them to notch second place behind the Y.

The BYU team of Barracough, Bill Casaday, Don Fowler, Finn Christensen and Tom Cottogno consistently picked up spurs and difficult splits. The BSC team did not, and this helped sink the Broncos.

Fowler came through with a fine 167 average to help the Y cause.

Barracough had the high game for the BYU men with 213 and also took home the tournament high series trophy by bowling a 1174 for six games.

The BYU women, who had taken the title three consecutive years, had to overcome a 724 pin lead by frontrunner USU and just couldn't do it, finishing second.

The highlights for the women were Sue Peterson's 221 game and Bev Empey's 227 game and tournament high (women) 1081 series.

Colleges Urged To Be Wary of Research Funds

The goal of a university should be the genuine education of young people, not the acquisition of more and more research contracts from government and private industry, Dr. Stephen J. Tonsor of the University of Michigan told the National Association of Manufacturers Education Committee at a meeting in Washington recently.

New Sources

"The only sound test is whether or not research enhances or diminishes the primary teaching function of the university," he said. "Government, business and industry should increasingly look to sources other than the university for their pure and applied research."

The speaker also advised against the use of the facilities of the university for the solution of social problems. "Social tasks are better performed by institutions outside the university," he said.

"Foundation grants for centers and programs are often inconsistent with the needs and basic educational directions of the institution, where there is no clear-cut teaching mandate."

Selectivity Needed

Declaring that universities cannot be "all things to all men," Dr. Tonsor said that the institutions of higher learning must regain a sense of modesty and selectivity in the formulation of their objectives.

"American education will become diverse and relevant to the needs of both the student and the nation when, and only when, the student is forced to pay a very substantial portion of the total costs of his education."

"If we genuinely desire diversity we will do all in our power to encourage students to pay for their education through a tax on future earnings," he said.

God is our refuge and strength... (Psalm 46:1).

When we need the added strength, God is there to give it. When we need healing, God is our healing. When we need courage, God is our courage. When we need faith, God is our rock, our strong foundation in whom we can trust.

Don't bother to put Johnny's toys back in his playroom. Just perch them on your coffee table as a decorative touch. At least, that's what architects and designers seem to be doing these days.

With the world becoming more and more leisure-minded, decorative playthings are providing a gay accessory note as well as amusing entertainment. After all, who wouldn't rather play a mind-boggling game of Instant Insanity than talk about the weather.

And Instant Insanity is the name of last year's biggest selling item in the toy industry. It's a game made of four plastic cubes in various colors, that are an absolute panic to try to fit together.

So, this year the cubes are translated into pillows that you can inflate for the den, playroom, or patio.

Another beach ball, believe it or not, is the Oulja board. After years of being regarded by many people as a joke, the "talking" board is back in style. For reason the occult seems to have captured everyone's fancy. So, accessory firms have taken up these playful items and brought forth astrological Zodiac signs in lucite cubes, wall hangings, and ash trays.

There's even a wiffenacht set for freaking out cocktail guests, area rugs you can play tic-tac-toe on, wooden puzzles, and all sorts of paper toy items. One plastic cube puzzle from Denmark forms a million different forms. Another plastic construction set in flower shapes forms dozens of striking patterns.

Although toys haven't quite made it to the kitchen yet, their color and decorative qualities certainly have. One set of pots and pans (by United States Stamping) is positively swinging. It features a splash-on abstract design in brilliant orange, blue and yellow. Cookware with colorful bottoms pretty enough to hang on the wall are particular favorites. Most are made with designs that won't burn off even with hard use.

Two popular patterns are the traditional blue Meissen, and a Fiesta pattern of red and brown on gleaming white. In a heavy gauge steel, they have a satin-smooth ceramic covering.

to 200 members within the past two years. One group of 16 ballroom dancers recently toured Pittsburgh, New York, Hartford and Boston. They were invited to Boston by the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, which had its annual convention there.
"Every major educator in the field of physical education was there," stated Roy Mayor. Referring to the tour, he remarked, "This trip carries even more of a missionary impact, since BYU is removed from the eastern States. Team members almost felt that it's a mission call!"
A tour through Canada begins Friday and a trip to Japan is tentatively scheduled for November.

WESTERN SONGSTERS

While the Ballroom Dance Team brings BYU to the east coast, Sounds of Freedom is spreading song in the West. This spring, during a ten-day tour covering 1200 miles, the Sounds have performed before standing-room-only crowds in Las Vegas and put on high school and stake shows in San Bernardino, Inglewood, Westwood and Fullerton. There were about 16 performances in all, and some were given at the rate of five per day! At Knott's Berry Farm, one of the many stops on their agenda, they received warm praise and a standing ovation.

At the All-American College Show, a nationally-aired television show, they were hailed by Dennis James, emcee, as the most vibrant and clean-cut group of singers from many colleges he'd seen. In the final competition the Sounds won $1,800 on the show. They got good comments from all those with whom they worked-stage personnel, make-up crews and band leaders had nothing but praise for the professional quality and image of the Sounds.

ALL-AMERICAN STARS

The Sounds of Freedom aren't BYU's only claim to fame on the All-American College Show. In a recent appearance, BYU's Sweethearts delighted viewers from coast to coast with their version of "I Dig Rock 'n' Roll Music." Other stars on the show have been Kathy McDonald, who took the $1000 first prize, and Cathie and Cherylin Olson, also takers of the top prize. The Smoggy Mountain Bluegrass Band brought their own lovable "countryified" brand of music to the show. Kiera Lewis, ventriloquist, is slated to appear, as are the Anderson Sisters on April 26.

No wonder Dennis James declares that BYU has produced more talent than any other school in the nation!

Fruit Flies, Wig Stands Lost And Found Has It

By Susan Hanks
Universe Feature Writer

Have you misplaced your bottle of pickled fruit flies? If so, you can claim it at the Lost and Found desk, 120 Wilkinson Center.

Each month a multitude of articles is turned in to the Lost and Found, most of them collected by the Custodial Dept. During March alone, 3,342 items were turned in, worth an estimated $13,317.94. Of these, 1,587 were returned, although, according to Ray Lowry, supervisor of the Lost and Found, the percentage returned is usually closer to 65 per cent. Mr. Lowry added that most of the articles not returned are just junk.

ACCURATE RECORDS

As items are turned in at the desk, they are dated and categorized. Accurate records are kept on all items, including descriptions, quantities received and estimated values.

A student who has misplaced an item may go to the desk, open weekdays 9 to 5, and claim the lost article by filling out a card. This includes listing name and address, a description of the article, estimated value, and the date the item was misplaced. If the dates coincide, the item is returned.

There are few students who fail to make at least one trip to the busy Lost and Found desk during the course of the year, searching for anything from musical instruments to kitchen utensils.

Under the supervision of the Wilkinson Center Business Office, the Lost and Found gathers each month a wide and interesting variety of items. To name a few March additions: 19 activity cards, 12 costumes, 1 wig stand, 2 formal, 80 coats, 569 books, 113 umbrellas, 43 wallets, 27 rings, 4 pants and 57 glasses.

THREE-MONTH TENURE

All Lost and Found articles not claimed are kept for three months at which time they are put on sale. Items not sold are given to Desert Industries. According to Mr. Lowry, the money from Lost and Found sales covers only about 15 per cent of the operating costs.

Students are reminded of the fact that lost activity cards are no longer taken to the Lost and Found but instead are turned in at the Dean's Office.
